I am an independent licensed IATA travel consultant, this enables me to extend my services to include booking of local and international flights on behalf of my customers, hereby offering a full turnkey vacation or immigration solution as well as a single source of contact.

I've been self-employed for the past ~25 years and am based in Port Elizabeth. My core business involves developing customised all exclusive vacation packages mainly for international visitors to South Africa as well as local clients looking for tailored high-end luxury holiday experiences. My specialities include: hunting expeditions, game reserve and safari getaways as well as specialized photography tours in conjunction with expert local photography guides. Aside from my packages promoting mainly South African destinations and properties, my portfolio also includes excursions to neighbouring countries such as Botswana, Namibia and Zambia. I am particularly proud of the multitude of repeat customers that I have gained over the years as well as the quality of the products that I represent and supplier relationships that I have nurtured within this industry.

Lastly and most importantly I am a person in good standing with high morals and a solid character. I am a law-abiding citizen and do not have any prior criminal records nor have I been charge with or accused of any misdemeanour or wrong-doing. I am an active member of my church and strive to be an example to others and contribute or add value wherever I can to benefit my fellow man and community.

Yours in travel
Arlene
